Project Highlights

This project is considered a neo classic style in every aspect of interior, furniture and materials were combined to express luxury, class and refined taste. Wooden boiserie was the main solution for most of the formal rooms integrated with hand-made embroidered fabric and wallpaper, 100% made in Italy and installed on site by top professional Italian joinery team.

Fer Forge was one of the design elements that was customised in a unique pattern and repeated in specific spots to give the project its own signature.

Olive open book veneer is used in one of the receptions, with a venetian antique mirror ceiling that brought to the project from Venice.

The focal point of this project is the swimming pool that is located in the central heart of the palace, where all spaces are distributed in two stories around with an amazing double volume that overlooking the pool below and around.

22 carat gold glass mosaics was applied on the entire volume of the pool to enhance luxury and richness.

Mother of Pearl was one of the materials used in main walls at master bathrooms, with a unique sophisticated reflection.
